We had a resource table and sold posters at the Red Dresser's Barn Market event over Memorial Day weekend, we raised $747 from poster sales and donations. We also provided parking assistance for the event, we have not received the check for this yet but we will make at least $500. We have been asked to help with parking and be involved with their fall Barn Market. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> MSU Extension recently launched their Story of Hope project at the Michigan Center for Rural Health Conference on 6/10/21. Nancy Dow is featured in one of the videos. All of the videos and information on how to share your story will be added to their website (https://www.canr.msu.edu/misuper/) soon. 4:40pm	PREVENTION	Prevention Talk from Lisa Anderson, a Certified Prevention Specialist from Up North Prevention, a Catholic Human Services Initiative <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Prevention means different things to different communities, based on their needs. The traditional focus has been with youth and in the schools. The current Drug Free Communities grant is similar to the old Drug Free Schools grant. If you do not have something for coalition members to do, they will become disengaged and leave the table. It is important to have events and allow people to engage. Coalition work is all about relationships You can view videos created by Up North Prevention on their YouTube channel: 	Lisa Anderson
